Six men have been trapped in a mine for seventeen hours. If they are not brought to the surface soon, they may lose their lives. However, rescue operations are proving [1] difficult. If explosives are used, vibrations will cause the roof of the mine to collapse. Rescue workers are therefore drilling a hole on the north side of the mine. They intend to bring the men up in a special capsule.
